○ Dispute Resolution

○ Restructuring and Insolvency

Giorgio Tombolini provides legal assistance, both in litigation and advisory matters, to leading national and international clients. His practice focuses on corporate, commercial, and general civil litigation, as well as arbitration proceedings. He usually plays a key role in client relationships as well as in managing and executing the work, serving as the primary point of contact for clients within the firm on the matters assigned to him.

Between 2025 e 2026, Giorgio was seconded to London to the Dispute Resolution department of Macfarlanes LLP, one of the leading English law firm, primarily renowned for its transactional practice. There, he thrived in a highly dynamic and stimulating environment. He was involved in managing cases of international scope, gaining hands-on experience with key aspects of English legal practice, and had the opportunity to work alongside lawyers from multiple jurisdictions.

Alongside his professional practice, Giorgio maintains an ongoing commitment to academia. He holds a Ph.D. in Civil Procedural Law from Sapienza University of Rome, where he also served as Research Fellow from September 2022 to September 2023.

Currently he is Contract Professor ("docente") of Civil Procedural Law at the Specialisation School for Legal Professions at Sapienza University of Rome and Assistant Professor ("cultore della materia") of Civil Procedural Law at Sapienza University of Rome and Roma Tre University. He is the author of several publications on Civil Procedural Law (his most recent ones focus on the recent reform of civil justice).
